I recurregain to Bleanerhauett. A recent tocount'I have seen, represent him as "one of the Irish patriots who were compelled to flee was stated that he was wealthy, and converting dage." his property in asoney, brought it with him to this country. A desire for activement, lefter the triggle he had passed through, led him to the beautiful island to the Ohio, which now bears ble name. 'I he' country, in the vicinity, was thee but spanly? settled, civilization shad as that great city is the true starting point. bardly reached that fertile region. But his vichity to Virginia and Ohio enabled him to mingle occusionally with refined society), whose hose pitality ... as amply repaid by the "splendid revelties and entertainments" of his own inausion Hither, it is said was the resort of the people of the whole neighboring country. He is spok en of as "a fine sample of the polished frish gentleman," and his lady as "a woman of rare beauty and accomplishments, which were heightened by a pure and unimpeached character.". It is represented that she was highly ambitious and aspiring, and eagerly acceded to the sthewee of Burr for conquest and dominion. The fire, which borned within-her breast, was communicated to her husband, who was also dezzled by the flattering inducements held out to him. He became enthusiastic in the cause, and entered into it with spirit. But their-plans, whatever they may have been, were frustrated This he pitable mansion was made deschate and he was obliged to fiee the country and seek an naylum in France, where, it is said, he still resides with his wife, in a state of penury and want all is stated that he had looned considerable suas to individuals in his vicinity, which his unexpected and rapid departure precluded him from collecting. In my preceding numbers, you had Judge Hall's account of this gentleman. The above is gathered from a letter of a recent traveller. Another has recently appeared, which places him in a very different light. Its authenticity and correctness may well be doubted, the general corrent of testimony being against it. It pd Wile to come from a vir e Consul of the U S. on one of the Bahama Islands. It represents him as having originated in a respectable. Irish nent of the British army, being settled on the Island of Jamaica, where, by bold mercantile adventures, he amassed a splendid fortune. He is further represented, as having absconded from that faland, with the "accomplished wife of a distinguished gentleman" there residing, and straining at New Orleans in 1803," under an agsamed name. From thence, he removed to the island below Marietta. After his flight from that place, he is said to have removed to New Providence, one of the Rehamas, and become a lawyer, under "his true name, Lewis Carr" that in 1829, he was a member, and afterwards Speaker of the legislative searmbly. Becoming eliberrassed, it is said that he returned to this country, and ended his days in obscurity; at Philadelphia, some time subsequent to the death of Burr. The author of this account professed te have been his partner in the practice of law for twenty years. The editor of the New York Courier, however, states that Blennerhassett rea.ded for several years in Montreal, and that he sa ... him there once or twice. > Business in New York. The encouraging tone of the New York papers in regard to business is truly enlivening; for if business is good in New York, it must improve every where else, The New-York Express of Wednesday evening

" Pearl, William, Pine, and other leading business streets, present their former appearance of busile and activity. The side-w. iks are no piled up with bales, boxes, and cashs, that it is difficult to get along. It is near two and a half years since we have had a good full or spring trade. There is now every appearance that this, although a late, will be a fair spring sesson. The country merchants who are here now, are, a large portion of them, new faces. They came with new capital and new credit. They represent different resources. They also come among a new set of business-men. The last two years have given New York a severe sifting. There is more change, more new firms, and more reorganizing of old firms, than was ever known in the same period.

Every sign almost appears to have been newly put up. There is a better opportunity now to commence a new order of things than there ever has been New indebtedness is to be created, and new costomers made, new hopes and new interests. It is greatly to be hoped, that in forming new alliances, they may be advantageous to both parties, Experience ought to teach the buyer not to purchase more than he will have the means to pay for and the same schoolmaster should teach the saller not to trust too much, or to sall too many goods. Pendence and caution should be studied. Alluring profits and long credits, have been alike ruinous to the buyer and seller.'

THE LADIES' FAIR . We have already called the attention of our readers to the Ladies' Fair which is to take place on the 1st of May, for which the most brilliant arrangements are making by the fair ladies of Bangor. The object is laudable, and commends itself to all sexes, ages and conditions, and we have no doubt that the benevolent citizens of this and the neighboring towns will contribute liberally, and thus aid in establishing a Female Orphan Asylum, so much family, and after serving in the engineer depart. heeded for the protection and education of female orphans.

THE LOVERS OF VIRE . We copy the following pretty illustration of female constancy from G. P. R. James's Desultory Man. Such instances exist not alone in tales of comance, but have frequently occured in real life :--

"It was in the beautiful Vale of Vire not many Francois fairmer went out to take his last May walk with Mariette Daval, ere the relentless conscription called him from his happy home, his sweet valleys, and his ear-It was a sad walk, as many will be magined; for although the morning was bright, and nature to her shas & be it spuken, had put on her gayest amiles, at if to mock their sorrew, yet the sunshine of the scene could not find its way to their hearts, and all seemed dorkened be it from me to betray their private conversation. I would not for all the world especially dend, that Francois Lormies yowed the image of Mariette should remain, with him forever; should inspire him in the battle, and cheer him in the bivouse; and that Mariette protested she would never marry any body except Francois Lormier, even if rich old Monsieur Lafu-refort, the great Foulan, were to lay himself and fortune at her feet; and, in short, that when his seven long years were out," Francois would find her still a spinster, and very much at his service. 'Mais ei je perdrois une jambe?' unid Francois Lormier. "Qu'est pe que c'a fait?"

replied Marietie. They parted and first to follow the lady Mariette wept a great deal, but soon after got calm again when about her ordinary work, sang her gong, danced at the village fete, talked with the talkers, laughed with the laughers, and won the hearts of all the youths in the place, by her unadorned beauty and her native grace But still she did not forget Francois Lormier; and when any one came to sak her in marriage, the good dame, her mother, refused them directly to Mariette, who had always her answer ready, and with a kind word and a gen tle look sent them away refused, but not offen ded. At length good Monuleur Lafoussefort presented himself with all his money bags, declaring that his only wish was to enrich his gentills Mariette; but Mariette was steady, and so touchingly did she talk to him shout your Frauonis Lormer, that the old man went away with lears in his eyes. Blu months-afterwards he died; when, to the wonder of the whole place, he left his whole fortune to Mariette Doval! In the meanwhile Francois joined the army, and from a light, handsome conscript, he soon become a brave, steady soldier. Sir John Harvey has not taken back his absurd threat, but on the contrary, he has carried it into execution to a partial extent, and The British Munarchical Government now holds exolusiva jurisdiction and antitaru occumetion of an incorprate town of the State of Maine, a menber of the American Union, and of the Republic of the United-States !! Nor is it true, no is neverted by the Times, that Sir John Harvey has placed the dispute on the old ground, for he never before had exclusive and undisturbed jurisdiction over the Madawaska acttlement - he never before occupied it with a military force- and he never before had a right, by the consent of Maine, to keep open a communication between New Brunswick and the Canadas with a military force, if necessary. But a year ago the Legis-Isture allowed John Baker, a citizen of Madawaska, a large sum of money for insults offered him by the British au horities, and not a year ago this same claim was recognized and allowed by the General Government, and how do these facts comport with the exclusive jurisdiction now granted to the British? John Baker is now a British subject, under the laws of New Brunswick, and should he now receive any indignity, which demanded redress, Maine and the General Governmen, to be consistent, must utterly refuse to render any assistance.

Educate your Children Never in her oldest days did Rome demand so much of her children our country demands of hers, Eich child belongs, not to the parents only, but to the State. Every young citizen must be educated as the ments of an education which shall emble him | ges. to take his station in the legislative halls to defend by the tongue and by the pen, the rights of the people to stem corruption to advance through public measures, the cause of truth and diffuse by them sound morality and social -happiness - and to stand as a Republican, invested with that nobility, which virtue and education give, by the side of the princes and nobles of the old world

How can the children become worthy citizens of this great Republic, if they are not well educated in their youth? Educate them, and they will understand the great interests of their country. They will decide aright on the important questions, which are continually to be referred to their consideration. They will escape being misled, on the one hand, by the solendor of the wealthy, and the pride of the ambitious. and on the other, the dangers with which ignorance has darkened and beset every other Republic. Prussia educates her children, that she may instil into their vouthful minds, a belief of the right divine of kings. Let us educate ours, that they may appreciate the right divine of fleemen and be enabled to show to the world, hereafter, what has been shown inus far, thatthe people of America know how to govern themselves and that history, in after ages, may fraw, from the records of our people, her most illustrious examples of fearless thought, of noble actions, and exalted virtue. Superior consideration.
The Camounic Proparation by Dr. Wm. Evans. is undertably entitled to this enviable distinction, for whilst no medical authority in existence condemns sively in the Bangor Courier, printed at Bangor, whilst no metheal authority in existence condemns that they may appear at a Probate Court to be held it, every medical practitioner that is acquainted at Elisworth aforesaid on the first Wednesday of with it, freely acknowledges its pre-eminent virtues May next, at ten of the clock, forenoon, and shew and that the fatter should do so in opposition to their cause, if any they have, why the same should not personal interests, must be attributed either to their personal interests, must be attributed either to their cander and love of truth, or to their unwillinguess to fly in the face of all observation, and the testimony of thousands.

Dr. W. Evans does not pretend that his Camomile Tonic Pills will cure all diseases. He frankly and conscientiously admits that they will not. He lays no claim to the discovery of the "Philosopher's Sione," and wishes notody to believe that he wells the "Elixir" of Life," but he does say, and he does believe, and he can prove, that in debifity and impaired constitution; in Nervous diseases of all kinds; in weakness of the digestive organs, in incipieul consumptions, whether of the lungs or the liver; in the dreadful debility occasioned by the use of purgatives; in palsy, theumatism, (more especially) in the rickness incident to mothers, and to females of relaxed prives; in every case of delirium tremens, or that disease which is brought on by intemperance; in the wretched horrors of body and mind which accrue from occasional inebrity; loss of appetite, langor, melancholy, pains in the head, limbs, or side; in corrupt sallow, and uncomely complexion, caused by the bad state of the fluids in all these cases, and in others mentioned in the bills of directions given with his medicines, HE LIGES best known) which are sold with them; will effect immediate relief; and if used but for a fair period of trails perfect cure. This much is placed beyond a doubt by daily testimonics which would be given on oath, and for this much Dr. W. Evans cau conscientrausly request confidence. He therefore need only add that his Camomile Tonic Pills, together with MORTGAGES NOTICE.

SEMPTOMS. The common corporeal symptoms wit I beginning on Fifth street 60 feet not theaster tutions, costiveness, spasmodic pains, giddiness, is from the point at the morth exterly link of thinges of sight, palpiturious, and often an uner inthe same is intersected by the northensterly knowl ability of fixing the attention upon any subject of im Cedar street; thence running northwesterly on a portance, or engaging in any thing that demands the parallel with Cedar street 100 feet; thence at vigor or courage. Also languidness; the wind he vight of courage. Also tanguidness; the mind he right angles 60 feet to Cedar street; thence on Cedar street; thence on Fifth and dejected, accompanied with a total derango streat 60 frost to the place of beginning, to hold to ment of the nervous system. The mental feelings me in fee and Marignee and recorded book 42 page, and peculiar train of ideas that haunt the imaginaly severe study, protracted to a late hour in the night, and rarely relieved by social intercourse, or exercise, a dissolute habit, great excess in enting FARM situate in Bangor, on the new road to and drinking, the immoderate use of mercury windown, about two unless from the city, and lent purgatives, the suppression of some habitual discharge, or long continued eruption; relaxation or debility of one or more important organs within abdomen, is frequent cause. TREATMENT - The principal objects of treatment are, to remove indigestion, to strengthen, the borly, and to eliven the spirits, which may be promoted by exercise, early hours, regular meals and pleasant conversation. The howels (if costive) being carefully repulated by the occasional use of a mild sperient. We know nothing better calculated to obtain this end, than Dr. Wm. Evans' Aperient Pills-being mild and certain in their operation. The bow-Pills, (which are tonic, anondyne, & anti-spasmodie) are an infallible remedy, & without dispute have proved a great blessing to the numerous public.

Some physicians have recommeded a free use of mercury but it should not be reserted to; as in man) engraved, not written. cases it will greatly aggravate symptoms:-
